

London Mayor Sadiq Khan Petitions UK Government To Mandate Fewer White Actors

London mayor Sadiq Khan has backed a campaign by British actors Idris Elba, Lenny Henry and Meera Syal, insisting the U.K.'s Office of Communications (Ofcom) set race representation guidelines for television broadcasting.

The atrocious leftist agitating and eventual policies in Europe often find their way to leftist agitators in the U.S., so Americans should pay attention.

In a controversially worded letter to Ofcom head Sharon White, Khan requested that more money be used to enforce ethnically diverse guidelines.

Khan's letter stated, "The BBC, Sky TV, Channel 4 and the BFI all have different definitions, which at times are so broad that they can be met without employing a single person of colour either on or off-screen."
